OUR CHURCH'S RESPONSE TO COVID-19

LATEST UPDATE

Dear People of Shepherd,

As our world continues to take pause for the next few weeks to engage in social distancing, as a way to limit the spread of COVID-19, we here at Shepherd are seeking new ways to engage in intentional community, worship, and faith formation. Social distancing does not mean social isolation and as such, we have a one-stop website page where you and your neighbors can engage with your faith community. Find our website at sohsv.org and click on the COVID-19 page tab to find our links and resources.

We are so grateful to be in community with you and look forward to exploring new ways we can be church together while physically apart. This is not forever, dear friends, and God holds us tightly; we trust in God's calming powers to sustain us.

With Love,
Pr. Renee and the Staff at Shepherd

WHAT ABOUT HOLY WEEK?

With what seems like everything changing in the wake of COVID-19, there have been many questions about how we do church together. One of the big questions is what about Holy Week and Easter? Well, dear friends fear not, for Christ has Risen and we shall celebrate! Holy Week and Easter are NOT CANCELED, that is fact.

When will we celebrate Easter?

That is the right question.

Shepherd's Current Holy Week and Easter Celebration Plans

Easter is not just one day, it is an entire season of the church. Therefore, the very first Sunday we are able to join in worship together again will begin...

We will continue to heed directions from our state and federal government regarding coming together again for in-person worship. Feel free to reach out to Pastor Renee, Pastor Brice, Sister Tashina or any member of staff or the Governing Board with questions or concerns during this time.

What will happen to the church?

Anybody tired of this yet? Tired of the endless questions (with no answers in sight) and wonderings? Tired of the panic, the worry, the lack of available toilet paper? Tired of being cut off from the people and places that we love?

But are we? Cut off I mean. As much as we have all grumbled about what social media has done, and is doing, to us as a society (admit it, you've grumbled too.) I for one am beyond grateful for it these past days/weeks. I mean, who knew you could still worship together on Sunday morning and then "gather" remotely for coffee and donuts afterwards (BYOD: bring your own donuts). I will admit that I am a little worried at how much everyone loved worshipping in their jammies this past Sunday 😊.

And who knew that I would be moved to tears at "seeing" all the people that joined our Facebook Bible study on Wednesdays (1:00 and 6:45...JOIN US!). Or how much joy I would feel just hearing some of your voices over the phone or on a live chat.

Who knew? God knew. God knows that we humans are hardwired to be in community with each other, that we need each other in all kinds of ways. As these days of forced isolation have invaded all of our lives I wonder if one of the things that we are learning from this travesty is how much we need and value each other, and how much we truly crave simply being together.

So as we all weather this storm together (and we WILL weather it) we will continue to seek creative ways in which to "gather and connect" and worship because God knows that we need it. And rest assured, when this has past we will be wholeheartedly celebrating Easter when we can gather in person again! For we have a God that has conquered things bigger than this virus. Praise be to God for that!!

In the meantime people of God, reach out to each other and to us (your willing and able Shepherd staff) if you need anything (or just need to check in) as we continue to remind each other that we are still "connected" even though it looks different these days.

So, what will happen to the church? The church will be just fine because WE are the church, filled with people caring about each other and grateful that we have a God that loves us through it all.

Be well my friends until we can meet (in-person) again! Pastor Renee

Shepherd's Governing Board Update

Our whole nation has been following the rapidly changing situation these days with the increasing concern about the spread of the COVID-19 coronavirus. That includes the staff and Governing Board of Shepherd. It is at times like this that we need most to be supportive of one another. With that in mind, Pastor Renee and all the staff have made some creative changes in our activities, at least for a little while. They have come up with a phenomenal plan of action to get us through the weeks ahead:

Sunday worship: The staff is working on videotaping and uploading Sunday worship for the upcoming weeks. This will include the Children's Message, the readings, the sermon, and prayers. Discussions are happening regarding Holy Week, and what that will look like and how will we celebrate when we can be together again.

Wednesday worship: Sister Tashina & Joe are crafting podcasts for this Wednesday worship.

Bible study: Is live on Facebook at 1:00 pm and 6:45 pm on Wednesdays. Please join in on the discussions!

Youth Ministry: Sister Tashina is making connections with our youth and families to keep them engaged.

LYN Ministry: Pastor Brice is working with our LYN ministry to coordinate ways that we can support our elder members and shut ins. He has created a quick Google survey link on the website that asks how you can help. Are you able to give of your time to run an errand or build relationships by writing a letter or making a phone call to an isolated person? Or are you a person in need of assistance? Please take a minute or two to fill out where you might be able to help out or to ask for help. The LYN Ministry Team and Pastoral Staff will compile and pair individuals to make sure we remain strong together!

Preschool: Jilene and her preschool teaching team are working on ways to stay connected with their students via online learning tools and videos until they can return to their normal class time routines.

We want to stay connected with you! During this time of physical separation, The Governing Board will remain actively involved in supporting the ongoing life of our church community (via electronic communication methods) to ensure that things continue to run as smoothly as possible through this transitional time. Last year 68% of Shepherd families were giving in non-offering plate manners (electronic giving/stocks). We are thrilled to see that number increase to approximately 80% of people contributing in non-offering plate ways in this past year. It is important to continue your generous giving as you are able during this time so that we can sustain all of our vital connective ministries.

Please stay connected with your Shepherd family. If you are a part of a small group at Shepherd that is looking for ways to stay connected, please contact the office for assistance on ways to set up meeting remotely with your group.

If you haven't already, we invite you to visit the website (www.sohsv.org), join us on our Facebook group and also watch for our emails with daily inspirational prayers and ways that we can stay connected as brothers and sisters in Christ. Let us hold one another in prayer until we can be together again.

Hello Shepherd Friends,

Easter is in our midst. We are so very much looking forward to the celebration of Easter. With Easter hunts, worship together, and a feast with family and friends. It will look so different than it does now as the winter air hangs on. We entered into this time of COVID-19 social distancing and all that might bring in our midst. Easter will be a time of celebration and joy. Something that we are all looking forward to.

But here in mid-March, as I write this article, we are just halfway through Lent and I sit here thinking about my 2020 Star Word: Anticipation.

Easter isn't here yet, Easter will not be here when you open up this newsletter. We are still waiting in anticipation. The truth of it is that Jesus cannot be raised from the dead without all that comes first. Jesus must be born, Jesus must live his life and ministry, Jesus must suffer and die. Lent, Maundy Thursday, and Good Friday comes first and the realities that they remind us of are what we must first wade through in anticipation of Easter.

Sister Tashina Good
Deacon | 651.288.2261
sistertashina@shepherdshoreview.org

Many Christian denominations skip right to the good stuff (Easter). Why not right? It is the good stuff. However, we Lutherans, as a part of the Protestant lineage of theological thought (think people who protested the Catholic church during the Reformation. We became Protesters or Protestant), we take great focus on the Theology of the Cross. Theology, meaning study of God and Cross meaning the suffering of Jesus. We take time to pause and remember that Jesus was not only fully God but also fully human. Jesus felt pain, he suffered, he struggled, he experienced the parts inside ourselves that we hope no one knows about. Before Jesus rose from the dead he, our God, experienced the darkest parts of what it means to be like us, because he loves us and wants to know us. Then, Jesus died, a horrific and painful, human death. As Protestants we take time before Easter to remember that Easter is not just amazing because Jesus rose from the dead but because Jesus suffered in the most horrible ways we can imagine. Then, when everyone thought all hope was lost, that their Savior had died, Jesus turned everything upside down. He changed every line of thought; he conquered death. You see, one cannot rise from the dead if one is not dead first.

This is a time for us to pause and know that whatever tragedy impacts our lives, whatever pain we suffer, we do not do this alone. God is there with us, completely understanding our pain, and walking alongside us. When we cry, God cries with us. When we mourn, God mourns with us. When we struggle, God struggles. God does not cause our suffering, God does not wish for our pain. Just the opposite in fact. God says that death does not have the last word. Death is the ultimate epitome of suffering and pain, this eternal separation from God. Yet, God's love for us is so deep and so strong and so overpowering that God came down to experience our pain and to stand in defiance of our suffering by conquering death and all that is evil by rising from the dead and making space for us to have life abundantly in relationship with God forever.

So as we wait in anticipation for Easter and the celebration of this abundant life, God has paved the way for us to live. I encourage you to pause and reflect on the enormity of what God eradicated, and that God sits with you in your despair. Join us for Holy Week worship on Maundy Thursday and Good Friday, so you don't sit in it alone. Let us be in community as we marvel at all God has done. And may we join one another on Easter morning with true joy at all God has done. Christ has risen, He is risen indeed!

See you in church (virtual or in person!),
Sister Tashina

“Therefore, since we are justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, ² through whom we have obtained access to this grace in which we stand; and we boast in our hope of sharing the glory of God. ³ And not only that, but we also boast in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, ⁴ and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, ⁵ and hope does not disappoint us, because God’s love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit that has been given to us.” Romans 5: 1-5

Siblings in Christ,

When we write our monthly newsletters we have to do so a couple of weeks in advance to make sure they are formatted and edited properly, so I am writing to you in the middle of March. Most years we would be knuckling down in full swing preparation for Easter, the summer, and what’s beyond. However, right now, we are in the midst of some scary news. Which makes the Easter season reminders of hope, resurrection, forgiveness, and love just as important to remember as every other year.

Paul writes in Romans, “hope does not disappoint us...” This sentiment does not mean that we will not experience sadness or hard times, but rather, that a hope found to be firmly planted in what God has given, shared, and told us will never lead us astray. In times of uncertainty, we can trust in the hope that our faith assures us, that our God loves us and cares for us.

Resurrection is what this season is all about. It is why our Savior came to this place. It why our God sent their only child, so that we might live. Our lives here on this earthly plane are but a glimpse of what is to come. How amazing it is that our lives are just the beginning. Sitting by bedsides as people leave this life for the next is always sad. No matter how you slice it, they are filled with grief for things that are said or left unsaid. For the chasm left in their absence or regret for things done and not done. It is hard to find the way to joy in these moments but our promise in the resurrection is just that. It is one filled with joy. See, we are here for but a moment, and when we leave this place it is for something far greater. I was asked by someone recently what the next place is like. Simple answer, I have no idea. What I do know is this, because scripture tells us, that it is a place of no more sadness, no more pain, tears will be no more, sorrow will be no more. This sentiment which is often spoken of at funerals, is our reality because of the resurrection gift we have been given through Jesus’ sacrifice.

At the 8:30 service, we participate in the rite of “Confession and Forgiveness.” This act of confronting our own brokenness in the midst of our community when we confess how we have fallen short, is not only humbling it is also freeing. Forgiveness has made our promise feasible. See, not only did Jesus give us a way into eternal life, we also have been granted the forgiveness necessary for reconciliation, to become one with God. Again and again. This confessional act that we share each week, looks a little different at the 10:00 a.m. service, not only reminding us that we are indeed sinners but also comes with absolution, forgiveness. When your pastors or one of our assisting ministers stands up and offers you the recognition that your sins are indeed forgiven, know that this is the work of God and not us. We are the conduit to remind you of your forgiveness in the midst of our brokenness. What an amazing gift!

But why would we have been given these gifts? What makes us worthy to receive forgiveness, the resurrection promise, and the hope that comes with it? Nothing. We are profoundly unworthy. There is nothing that we can do to deserve this gift. We are sinners and by definition separated from God. BUT we are loved. The love that we have through and because of God is enough to allow the rest to happen. We are unworthy but we are still loved because our God’s love is more powerful than anything else we would ever encounter. We are that lucky.

May we, during this Easter season, remember that we have hope, through the resurrection promise that grants us forgiveness all because we are loved more than we deserve by a God whose generosity knows no bounds.

PB

Dear friends,

Wow. Those are the only words I'm left with amidst the global turmoil that is COVID-19. If I would have anticipated this newsletter even one month ago, I would be writing something completely different. I would write to let you know how excited I am to perform John Rutter's Requiem on Good Friday. I would let you know how busy we had been preparing for Holy Week and Easter. I would let you know that we are so excited for you to welcome in your friends and family for this special time of year.

Instead I'm writing this newsletter article while quarantined and baking bread. BAKING BREAD. I mean, I've never baked bread. I just go to Target, obviously. Also, I never went on walks. Sure, I ran to be fit, but never walks. Not enough time. I walk now. I put in a podcast (quick plug for our Wednesday Lenten Podcasts!), walk, and take in the nature around me.

I know there are life alternating ramifications to this disease - and my sincere prayer for everyone is that you stay happy, healthy, safe, and sane. But throughout all of that, I see our community come together in unexpected ways. Virtual Coffee Time with BYOD (Bring Your Own Donuts), Sunday Worship, a new podcast, an alive and active Facebook Community (If you're on Facebook and aren't a part of this - come join! "Shepherd Shoreview Community"). I see musicians posting music online, friends getting together to virtually watch movies...

For me, it's a reminder that even as beaten down and isolated as we are right now as a global community, we still need each other. We are still one body in Christ. And if I'm completely candid, I've seen that body come into fullness more in these past few weeks than I have in the past few years. If that in itself isn't a glorious celebration of the Easter promise, I don't know what is. Stay safe. Stay well. Stay connected.

Soli Deo Gloria,

Joe

First Communion Class - Postponed

First Communion Class will take place 11:15 am—1:00 pm here at Shepherd at a later date.

Although we lift this class up to our 3rd-5th grade youth, it really is for all people! As we state on Sunday mornings, "If you are not sure, if you haven't ever been to Communion, if you haven't been here in a long time, you are welcome here. It is a gift from God, for the people of God, whom He loves very much." That is all people. So if you feel like your younger child is ready to take communion, First Communion is for them! If you yourself have not taken communion or are not sure what it means in your life, First Communion is for you!

Contact Pastor Brice or Jilene to register.

Prayer Partners

Each month the preschoolers are excited to see what we have planned for our prayer partner activities. In the pictures to the right, we played a large game of Candy Land. The students LOVED it and still talk about it.

Each month the activities are different. We always begin with Chapel time and then break out into different activities. We have read our favorite books, done art projects, played games, and done science activities.

We are SO grateful for all of you who come and join us each month!

BEGA KWA BEGA

We recently received an email from Kidamali. They mentioned that the first COVID-19 case has appeared in Tanzania and that schools have been closed across the country. They want us to know the following:

“We have joined our fellow world partners who are praying against the effects of harmful corona viruses. We are currently in the special prayers of fasting and mourning.

In our last Sunday Worship service Pastor John Kisoma conducted prayers against corona virus. In our prayers, we have been mentioning you (Shepherd) in person so that God may protect you from the effects of this harmful virus. We believe God is mercy to us. This too shall pass.

Apart from praying, we are taking all the precautions against the virus. We hope, God will have mercy on us.”

Shepherd member Ellen Holmgren recently visited Kidamali and gave our greetings to them. They told us in an email that she, “made our January 26th worship service incredible.” While we continue to work towards bringing visitors from Kidamali to Shepherd, we realize that this will now probably not take place while the COVID-19 is causing so many disruptions.

Our 2019 Lenten offerings are being used to renovate Kidamali’s kindergarten, including adding plumbing so they will have water in the building.

Our 2018 Lenten offerings were used to fund scholarships for last year and this year. This year’s students are – Catherine Mgao, Innocent Nsemwa, Isaya Sanga, Lightness Msangwa, Meshack Kisoma, Nives Mbwilo and Tumaini Kisoma. Please pray for them.

Thank you for your generosity! Your past gifts will have a lasting impact in Kidamali.

Year of Renewal

Greetings friends,

It's been a little while since we updated you on the progress of your Renewal Team. You might remember back in November, Cathy Springhorn stood up and shared some things about our Year of Renewal process. In this, she outlined the meetings we attended, the cohort training we participated in, and the relationships formed and strengthened. It has been a truly enlightening couple of years on this team.

Now we are seeing our mission shift a bit. We went from seeing what Shepherd needed or rather the direction the congregation was heading to more of a relational model built on establishing deeper connections with one another. We also realized this year of renewal was something far more intentional, and longer-lasting. As such, we thought it appropriate to drop "Year" from our team's name. We are now called the "Renewal Team."

As we entered this next phase, we began to realize we needed to up our game of doing one-on-ones, the meetings with a renewal team member and another shepherd member. We have been doing our best to keep up and maintain but we have such high hopes and dreams for our visits and in these dreams, we knew we needed to add to our team. Enter, Dave Goligowski, John Gatzlaff, Jane Ullmann-Bester, and Chuck Westerberg. These four individuals, coupled with our existing team, will engage in these one-on-ones aiding in getting to as many of you as possible.

Now that we have begun our next phase it's time to enact the engagement piece of our team's goal. We need you to let us know who would like to meet for a time of conversation and engagement. But how can we do that you ask? We are in the midst of a global health crisis and you want us to meet? Yes, but NOT in person! Reach out to Pastor Brice and let him know you are up for a meeting. He will then reach out to one of the team and they'll contact you for the conversation. This time is typically about 30-60 min and is a truly fruitful one. What better time than the present to do these meetings than when we are stuck at home being encouraged to stay home. Not a fan of phones? No problem, we have been using Zoom and other virtual gathering platforms like they're the greatest things ever. This is possible.

These are uncharted times for us, and we have a profound opportunity to join in and participate with one another in deeply meaningful ways. Email Pastor Brice at Pastorbrice@shepherdshoreview.org to set up your time.

Grace and Peace to you all!

Committees, Teams, and Boards, Oh My!

Shepherd, as a church and community, has a lot of moving pieces and it only works well when we all come together to do our part. So over the course of the next year or so, we will be introducing you to all of our committees, teams, and boards. Find out more about our community and possibly see a place where you can fit into it as well!

Prayer Shawl Ministry

The Prayer Shawl Ministry is a group of women that get together every other week to knit or crochet shawls for people that are sick, facing surgeries, depression, change of living situations or just need to know that someone cares. We meet for fellowship and making the shawls. We get more out of the giving than the making, as the feedback we get is such a God thing. All the shawls are prayed over and blessed when finished.

Diane Bronson

Here are some comments from our group:

"Going to our Prayer Shawl meetings is the highlight of my month."

Bev Kroll

"We love to hear of the encouragement these shawls have been to so many. It's a fun and wonderful group, a ministry and a mindset."

Bobi Raab

"This group of women are some of my dearest friends. As we knit for others with a sense of purpose, we learn to know each other through our prayer requests. We not only pray for the recipients of our shawls, but also for each other." Pat Lehman

Altar Guild

The Altar Guild prepares the Sanctuary for communion each Sunday. We work as a Team. The Altar Guild is made up of men & women who serve the Lord, and the church congregation, by caring for the altar and the ceremonial aspects of our church worship services. They keep the Sacristy area (the small room behind the sanctuary) in good order, prepare for Holy Communion, change banners and paraments (the cloths on or around our altar and pulpit), clean communion trays, serving pieces, and cloths as necessary, check oil candles on the altar, and notify the office when communion supplies are low. Members serve on a schedule that they choose. We welcome those who wish to join this very important service.
